European Delegates Arriving for International Congress—Cold Storage to Be Discussed.

High as the cost of living is today prices of food would be still higher were it not for the modern system of cold storage.

This fact is expected to be demonstrated in a discussion on "Improvements and economy in the people's food due to the application of refrigeration to perishable products," led by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture, in the third section of the program of the third international congress of refrigeration, to be held in Washington and Chicago September 15-24. How further improvement and economies may be effected through the application of refrigeration also may be expected to result from the discussion by the international experts who will participate.

Through the consideration of the subject much light will be shed concerning all questions involved in cold storage of food.

The foreign delegates to the congress, between 400 and 500, from more than forty countries, are arriving in New York.

The American Association of Refrigeration has raised a large entertainment fund for the foreign representatives. Upon their arrival and registry in New York they are being provided with railroad and sleeping car tickets from New York to Washington, to Chicago, to Niagara Falls, and back to New York and practically every expense while they are in the United States is being borne by the American Association.

The delegates will reach Washington Sunday night at 7 o'clock, and will be welcomed to the city by a committee of the association, headed by E. O. Whitford, president of the Washington Market Company, assisted by three committees from the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, and Retail Merchants' Association.

This will be the first time the congress has been held outside of Europe, and is expected to be the last for the present generation, as the various foreign capitals first.

Examinations Are Announced.

Competitive examination for the position of laboratory aid, male, to fill a vacancy in the Bureau of Plant Industry, at $29 a year, for October 8-9, and an examination to fill the place of tinner's helper, male, at $60 a month, for October 20, have been announced by the United States Civil Service Commission.

The value of farm animals in this country last year was $5,000,140,775.

The funeral of Rufus Gaynor, son of the late Mayor, will be held in Trinity Church on Monday, September 22. The body will lie in state in the City Hall from the time of its arrival on the Lousiana from Liverpool until the day of the funeral.

GAYNOR FUNERAL TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 22

New York, Sept. 12.—Arrangements were made today for the funeral of Mayor Gaynor, which will be held in Trinity Church on Monday, September 22. The body will lie in state in the City Hall from the time of its arrival on the Lousiana from Liverpool until the day of the funeral.

The following cablegram was received at the City Hall today from Rufus W. Gaynor, son of the late Mayor:

"City Hall, New York:

"Sail with cabinet on Lousiana from Liverpool, Saturday, the 12th. Casket to rest in Town Hall, Liverpool, tonight with guard of honor, through courtesy of the Lord Mayor. Will meet United States Consul Washington on arrival. Everything O. K. Please notify mother."

It is expected that the Stock Exchange will be closed on the day of the funeral. The Board of Governors are to meet Monday to take action on the death of the Mayor.

M'ANENY AND WILLCOX
DECLINE GAYNOR LEAGUE
MAYORALTY NOMINATION

New York, Sept. 12.—What is to become of the Gaynor League was still the question of greatest interest today among politicians interested in the campaign for the Mayoralty.

Today the place at the head of the Gaynor League was first offered to George M'Aneny, fusion candidate for president of the Board of Aldermen. He promptly declined it, but when William R. Willcox, former chairman of the public service commission, also declining, Joseph Johnson, chairman of the Gaynor campaign committee, announced that M'Aneny would be nominated despite his declination.

M'Aneny says he will not run against Mitchell, said Johnson. "Well by the time we are ready to file petitions Mitchell will have seen that he can't be elected and will withdraw from the race. M'Aneny will then be free to take our nomination."

Arthur H. Woods, campaign manager for the Fusionists, said: "There is not the ghost of a possibility of Mr. Mitchell withdrawing. Mitchell's prospects are brighter than ever. Johnson is trying to keep the Gaynor movement alive for the sole purpose of helping Tammany and McCall."

It is understood that many of the Gaynor men will throw their support to Mitchell.

Tammany leaders refused to comment on the situation today.
